

ANN HAUGH

Ann Haugh is a high-performing and accomplished global (re)insurance executive with over 28 years of experience in strategy, underwriting, operations, and general management. As CEO of AXIS Re, she has a proven track record of building and leading high-performing teams, improving underwriting margins, and driving customer service excellence.

Ann is recognised for her ability to develop innovative solutions to complex challenges, lead global operational transformation programmes, and diversify underwriting portfolios to drive profitable growth and geographic expansion. She excels in fostering long-term strategic partnerships that unlock global business opportunities, delivering effective distribution and marketing strategies that strengthen market presence.

A dynamic and inspirational leader, Ann has successfully cultivated high levels of employee and customer engagement, enhancing both company reputation and business performance. Her expertise in change management ensures smooth transitions and effective organisational evolution at all levels.

As an ISC Group Ambassador, Ann is committed to advancing opportunities for women in the re/insurance sector. She actively supports initiatives that drive gender equity, professional development, and leadership progression within the industry.