

CHRISTINA COLBY

Christina Colby is Guidewire's Chief Customer Officer, where she partners with customers to help them realise optimal value throughout their journey with Guidewire. Christina's leadership ensures organisations achieve their business objectives, both for today and the future.

Previously, Christina led Guidewire's global cloud sales strategy, leveraging her commercial and operational expertise in cloud solutions. She also brings extensive consulting knowledge and SaaS experience from her 15 years at Capgemini, as well as four years as part of the executive leadership team at Virtustream, the mission-critical cloud company of Dell Technologies.

As an ISC Ambassador, Christina supports the mission of advancing leadership opportunities for women in the re/insurance sector, helping to shape a stronger and more inclusive industry.
